TURKS HAVE RUSSIAN AID, AND ALSO ASK BULGARIA TO ASSIST

Mustapha Kemal Remains Firm in His Determination to Seize Constantinople and Allies Stand Together to Keep Him Out of Neutral Zone

Greek Warship "Kilkos" Reported Having Shelled Turkish Quarters at Smyrna in Reprisal for Slaughter of Greeks by Kemalists; Total Dead 2,500

By United Press

Warned that they must surrender Constantinople or participate in a holy war, the British today rushed troops and warships to that city to strengthen their hold on it.

Turkish cavalry patrols boldly pushed to within a few miles of the suburbs of the city. There was no indication of a "back down" by either side, Mustapha Kemal remaining firm in his determination to seize the city, the allies standing together and ordering him to keep out of the neutral zone.

Outstanding developments of the last 24 hours were: 1. British warships arrived at Constantinople and landed two regiments of troops and an airplane squadron, while units of the Mediterranean were concentrated at the entrance of the Dardanelles.

2. The Russians were reported concentrating two divisions of troops in the Caucasians ready to march to the help of Mustapha Kemal's troops and attack Constantinople.

3. General Sir James Townsend, who commanded the British Mesopotamia army in the war, in a statement to the United Press warned that the allies must quit Constantinople or Kemal would rally all Moslem under him in a holy war that would sweep Egypt, India and Palestine, imperiling the whole British empire.

4. Additional details of the massacres and fire at Smyrna following Turkish occupation were revealed by fugitives arriving in Athens.

The Greek warship "Kilkos" was reported to have shelled Turkish quarters of Smyrna in reprisal for slaughter of Greeks by Kemalists. The total dead amounted to 2,500.

Not since the days of 1914 as the world war opened, has there been such agitation in the government councils of European nations, with each side striving to get powerful allies, according to dispatches from capitals.

The Turks have sent emissaries to Sofia to get the aid from Bulgaria, and Russian officers are reported to have been seen in Angora, Mustapha's capital, assisting in drawing campaign plans.

Jugo-Slavia is placing troops at strategic points to meet the Turkish advance.

Great Britain and Italy are attempting to hold the French in line and prevent an undivided allied front to the Turkish menace.

Turkish Armistice Terms

Paris, Sept. 16.—The Turkish armistice terms were made public today in a semi-official dispatch from Angora, the seat of the Nationalist government. They were:

1. Greece to withdraw its army from all territory claimed by the Turks, abandoning its arms, ammunition and supplies unconditionally.
2. Greece must recognize Turkish sovereignty in Asia Minor and Thrace.
3. Greece must pay indemnity for all damage suffered by the Turks.
4. All parties named by the Turks as guilty of atrocities must be surrendered by the Greeks.

British Reinforcements Landed

Athens, Sept. 16.—British reinforcements were landed at Constantinople while Turkish cavalry approached to within a few miles of the city.

Four British cruisers and eight destroyers conveyed the troops to the ancient Turkish capital, which Mustapha Kemal, leader of the Nationalist forces, threatens to seize from the allies.

Two regiments and an airplane squadron and machines comprised the reinforcements. A detachment of allied marines attempting to land at Smyrna yesterday were prevented from doing so by Kemal troops massed on the docks, according to advices received here today.

Following this, the dispatch said the Greek battleship "Kilkos" opened a bombardment on the Turkish quarters of the city which has not been burned by the fire which swept other districts. Great damage was reported done by the warship's fire.

Details of Massacre

Fresh details of the massacre in Smyrna were given to the allies today as thousands of refugees arrived here.

In one instance they said the Turks were prevented from slaughtering one group of victims only by displaying the American flag.

American Consul General Horton arrived here, and is in a state bordering a nervous collapse due to the horrors which he witnessed, including the murder of his own chauffeur.

British reinforcements were rushed to Constantinople following a meeting of the cabinet in London at which it was decided to have the Mediterranean fleet prevent Kemal transports from assembling and to send fresh troops to the neutral zone to resist any advance by the Turks.

The principal ships of the Mediterranean fleet included the "Iron Duke," the "Diligence" and the "Trinidad," which left Smyrna and steamed to Chanak at the entrance of the Dardanelles opposite Gallipoli.

The town of Schnah is being made into a virtual fortress to stem the Kemal tide. Latest reports from there are that thousands of lives were lost in the massacres. At least 2,500 are dead, and many have been interred in the holocaust.

Harbor Full of Floating Corpses
The harbor of Smyrna is filled with floating corpses.

Refugees reported the storming of 800 'old men, women and children, who were in a building. As the victims ran to the streets, they were shot down by the Turkish troops. The blaze was described by correspondents as unquestionably one of the greatest fires in the history of the world.

Grave fears are felt for the Greek and Armenian students from the American college which was burned. The girls range in age from twelve to eighteen, and it is believed the Turks kidnapped them. Miss Mills, matron, escaped.

The American steamer "Vidone" with 2,000 refugees arrived here from Smyrna today. Ten thousand more refugees are packed on barges at the port of Smyrna without food or water.

AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR TO TAKE HAND IN IMPEACHMENT MATTER

Washington, Sept. 16.—The American Federation of Labor will take a hand in the impeachment proceedings brought against Attorney General Daugherty in the House, it was announced today from the judiciary committee meeting to consider the Keller impeachment resolution.

Representative Keller of Minnesota, author of the bill, appeared before the committee. He presented no evidence, and it was decided to postpone formal hearings until next Thursday. The committee refused Keller the right to summon witnesses, and declared he must present personal evidence to support his impeachment charges before the judiciary committee will attempt to investigate the case.

Ben Marsh, of the farmers national committee announced he would testify before the committee when formal hearings are begun Tuesday.

FORD'S DETROIT PLANTS CLOSE; 100,000 OUT

MANUFACTURER'S ANNOUNCEMENT OF SHUTDOWN GOES THROUGH

Detroit, Sept. 16.—Henry Ford late yesterday took steps to close his Detroit automobile plants, beginning tonight, thereby throwing upward of 100,000 workmen in the Detroit district out of employment for an indefinite period.

He asked officials of the Detroit Street Railway to rearrange its schedules to care for the night forces at his various factories who were dismissed at 11 o'clock, it was announced.

Announcement of the intended closing came from officials of the street railway company. No official statement from Mr. Ford or his executives was forthcoming late yesterday, it having been stated in the morning at the Ford offices that the manufacturer's announcement several weeks ago that he would close September 16, "would stand," unless he altered his plans.

The railway company, it was announced was requested to concentrate its cars at the Highland Park and other Ford plants at 11 o'clock to carry the shifts finishing work, to their homes. The day shifts were dismissed at the end of the working day today, the street railway company was informed. Simultaneously it was announced a number of smaller manufacturing concerns here that supply the Ford Plants with parts and accessories workers would be thrown out of employment, numbering upward of 30,000 men. The Ford workers to be thrown out of employment total approximately 70,000.

Mr. Ford announced several weeks ago that he would close his Detroit plants on Sept. 16, because of the coal situation. He denied a real coal shortage existed and charged certain coal brokers were demanding an exorbitant price for fuel. He said that rather than pay these prices he would close his plants for an indefinite period.

Ford Motor company foremen received instructions this afternoon to advise all workers under their charge to "save their money and live as economically as possible during the suspension." Many workers said they took this to mean the shutdown might be protracted.

SOLDIER BONUS BILL UP TO THE PRESIDENT

BELIEVED THAT HARDING WILL VETO THE MEASURE PROPOSED

Washington, Sept. 16.—The soldier bonus bill was to be sent to President Harding today for his approval or veto.

Harding was expected to veto it. In anticipation of this, bonus supporters in the House and Senate were doing their utmost to marshal votes to override the presidential objection. A two-thirds vote of both houses is required to make the bonus a law if Harding disapproves it.

House May Sustain Veto

Washington, Sept. 16.—It was almost a foregone conclusion that the house would not sustain an executive rejection of an overwhelming vote in favor of the bonus, particularly at this time.

Opponents declared they had definite promise of 34 votes to sustain a veto, which would kill the bill.

Bicycle Prices Cut

Atlantic City, Sept. 16.—A cut of 40 per cent in the price of bicycles has been decided upon by the convention of the Bicycle Manufacturers association, in session here.

Shopmen's Side of Controversy As Given by Publicity Committee

STRIKE BULLETIN

In contrast with this injunction stands the injunction granted by Justice Bourquin, of Helena, Montana, wherein he declared in substance as follows:

"It must be remembered the strike is lawful, and both parties thereto, if so foolish to put it mildly, as to persist in disagreement, are to have the fullest freedom within the law, each to promote its or their success over the other, that is plaintiff to secure employees if it lawfully can; defendants to prevent if they lawfully can. * * *

"By the Clayton Act Congress recognizes the necessity and value of labor unions and labor activities in the matter of conditions of employment; that they have done and are yet capable of a great work; that to the workman and his, a job is life, wherein eternal vigilance is no less the price of a job than of liberty; and that its loss too often changes the current of human lives and spells disaster. Hence, the Clayton Act to aid his last ditch struggle to retain his job against all comers. To that end the act provides the workmen may 'recommend, advise and persuade' and by all lawful means fairly within the import of those terms. All art, eloquence, oratory and logic are open to the workmen to accomplish persuasion.

"Fair and vigorous argument to those who will listen is legitimate.

No reason appears why workmen may not model after congressional oratory or after what is fairly inferable in the consultation room of the Supreme Court on occasion, say of some decision by the odd justice.

Human nature is everywhere alike, and every man is or ought to be earnest, enthusiastic and fearless in his own if good cause.

"It is not believed that the American Steel Foundries case decided by the Supreme Court on Dec. 5, 1921 imports otherwise. In it is no purpose to denature or weasel the Act and limit workmen to methods akin to pink teas and scented notes of invitation. They have their own virile vocabulary and manner, and so long as within the Clayton Act there is no censor upon their use.

"The principal thing is that workmen conscientiously heed the orders of the law and its instruments (the Courts) that threats and force and their intimidation must not be used to promote strikes, and that of necessity, theirs as well as others, such methods always have been and always will be under the ban and criminal. In respect to pickets, defendants will be allowed two at any point of access to plaintiff's premises where men usually or may be expected to enter. If the entrants are numerous, perhaps more may be necessary. The Clayton Act by 'person or persons' intends that the number of agents

LAST MINUTE RUSH STAGED FOR SMALL GAME LICENSES

COUNTY AUDITOR C. W. MAHLUM ISSUED 131 ON THURSDAY, 275 ON FRIDAY

TOTAL LICENSES TAKEN OUT WILL RUN OVER 700—RICE CROP ABUNDANT

Duck shooting in the Brainerd lake region started promptly at 5:52 this Saturday morning. At least that was the official opening.

According to all reports good shooting can be expected. Deputy Game Warden A. P. Cardie said wild rice has grown plentifully, in fact so much so that the Mille Lacs Indians had a dance celebrating the bountiful rice harvest.

There was a regular rush for small game licenses at County Auditor Charles W. Mahlum. On Thursday 131 were issued, on Friday 275, and the total is expected to run well over 700.

The first of the outsize advertisements setting forth September and October merits of this wonderful game country will appear in the Minneapolis Journal. Other papers to carry the advertisements will be in St. Paul, Chicago, St. Louis, Omaha, etc. The Dispatch fund has received $15 to date, but more is needed to make the $50 quota.

Small Game May be Shot

Wild ducks, geese, coots, rails, gallinules, Wilson or jack snipes and greater and lesser yellow legs may be shot between Sept. 16 and Dec. 31 inclusive. Wood ducks continue to remain on the protective list. At the request of many sportsmen's clubs throughout the state the governor extended the closed season for the taking of ringneck pheasants another year. The season will not open until Oct. 15, 1923.

This season is also a closed one on prairie chickens but the hunters may kill partridge but not until Oct. 15. The season will close the last day of November.

The daily limit on game birds in the aggregate of all kinds, is as follows: mourning doves, woodcock, 9; quail, 10; partridge or ruffed grouse 5; wild ducks, coots, rails, snipe and yellow legs, 15; wild geese 5.

The limit allowed in possession: mourning dove, woodcock, 30; quail or partridge, 20; wild ducks, coots, rails or gallinules, jacksnipe, and greater or lesser yellowlegs in the net more than five shall be wild aggregate of all kinds, 45; of which geese, one and half only.

shall be governed by circumstances. Obviously, not otherwise could the object of the act be attained."

The foregoing is in substance the position of the Federated Shop Craft and in fact of the entire labor movement. Furthermore, it is a fair and impartial interpretation of the Clayton Act and no injunction is necessary to obtain compliance with it by 99 per cent of the members in these organizations, and those who may unconsciously infringe its provisions can be properly taken care of by the local civil authorities without recourse either to Federal Authorities or a Federal Injunction. Therefore the position of the Federated Shop Crafts with respect to the Attorney General's Injunction is in substance as follows:

Where the injunction is intended to curb lawlessness of all characters and to preserve life and property. It will be observed, as this was and would have been our policy regardless of the injunction. But where the injunction intends to infringe upon the constitutional rights of free citizens or where it intends to nullify the labor provisions of the Clayton Act, or where it is in conflict with decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States, it cannot and will not be accepted and if this position is a violation of the injunction, Mr. Daugherty will change it.

BURLINGTON ROAD SETTLES WITH ITS SHOPMEN INDEPENDENTLY OF JEWELL

(By United Press)
Chicago, Sept. 16.—Rail shopmen today continued to negotiate agreements with individual railroads.

16 railroads have already signed the agreement, and the men were ordered back to work.

Union leaders claim that by the end of next week settlements will be reached on 63 roads at least. Carriers which have decided to fight the Baltimore agreement started today to form company unions.

The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy has effected an agreement with the shopmen, not based on the Jewell compromise. Union leaders declared that hundreds of workers are going back to work without authority.

"Stories carried in the newspapers of the settlement have sent hundreds of men back to work on roads on which no agreement has yet been reached," John Scott, secretary of the shopcrafts organization declared.

"I want to urge each man not to go back to work until they receive orders from headquarters."

The federal government closed its case last night and the defense will not start until Monday.

Negotiations for Separate Settlement

Negotiations for separate settlement, by which striking employees of the Soo line, Northern Pacific, Great Northern and Minneapolis & St. Louis might return to work are definitely at an end, rail officials said. Whatever union men return must come back as new men, according to their previous ultimatum, officials declared.

Definite refusal to accept terms for a separate settlement of the strike in the northwest was reiterated by representatives of the four roads which have not subscribed to the Chicago agreement of Wednesday, in a conference with R. A. Henning, northwest strike leader, in St. Paul. The conference in no sense was a re-opening of previous strike settlement conferences, officials declared.

"Mr. Henning called a conference on his return from Chicago and asked that the railroads take part," R. W. Clark, secretary to Charles Donnelly president of the Northern Pacific, said. "Representatives attended the conference out of courtesy to Mr. Henning, and reiterated their previous statement that strike settlement negotiations, as far as we are concerned, are over."

Basis Called "Impossible"

The Jewell arrangement to end the walkout was called "an impossible basis for settlement" in a statement issued by Mr. Donnelly, speaking as representative of the roads which joined in the conference.

"Each company stated it would be willing and glad to set to work as many of the men now on strike as it was possible to employ, that many or perhaps most of them could be employed, and that every effort would be made to find employment for all of them except those guilty of violence or of conduct which made a renewal of the old relations impossible," Mr. Donnelly's statement said. "But the representatives of each company made it clear that it was the purpose of these lines to protect at all costs the loyal employees who remained at work and the new men now employed, to whose services the companies in question are indebted for having been enabled to operate their properties."

Plan to Continue Fight

The federated shopcrafts will continue the fight against the railroads refusing to subscribe to the agreement, Mr. Henning said, and will make every effort to prevent union men from going back to work, drawing contributions from the 15,000 men in the northwest who will be re-employed under the Chicago agreement, to aid in carrying on the fight.

"We will maintain our picket lines until a settlement is reached, and will refuse to let any union men enter the shops nor parties to the agreement," Mr. Henning said. "The provisions for the settlement have been accepted by 30 per cent of the roads involved in the walkout. We believe that if that proportion of the lines can accept the terms as just and fair, the rest can do likewise."

Service Held Measure of Results

In answer to Mr. Donnelly's statement, Mr. Henning declared "the results of the strike will be measured by the ability of the railroads to furnish service to the public." "The fight by unions against the four railroads will be continued until a settlement is reached, and every effort will be exerted to keep union men together to combat them, he said.

Strike headquarters would not give definite information as to how the federated shopcrafts plan to prevent the return of union men to work in shops on lines which have not accepted the Chicago settlement, beyond a statement that "the men themselves will see that there is no weakening."

"There has been too much publicity already," Mr. Adams, assistant to Mr. Henning said.

Rail heads flatly denied the statement of Mr. Henning that the strike is crippling traffic on their lines. Conditions are not normal as yet. W. H. Bremmer, president of the Minneapolis & St. Louis, said, but a steady increase is being shown in the number of men employed and in the capacity of shops and roundhouses. Mr. Bremmer repeated his declaration that the railroads are "going through" to a normal basis according to their present plan, without any settlement with the striking shopmen of the northwest.

Bremmer Cites Misunderstanding

The Minneapolis & St. Louis was included in the list of railroads first announced as subscribing to the Chicago agreement on the information given the conference by S. Davies Warfield, mediator for the railroads which signed the agreement. Mr. Henning's statement said Mr. Warfield told the conference that Newman Erb, member of the board of directors of the Minneapolis & St. Louis, was acting as strike settlement representative for the road and favored the settlement, Mr. Henning said.

"Mr. Warfield's statement was based on a telephone conversation with Mr. Erb," Mr. Bremmer said, "and was a misunderstanding. We have at no time considered settlement under the Jewell plan, and will not now or later."

ST. CLOUD PROTEST DENIED BY SAWYER

Washington, Sept. 16.—Brigadier General C. E. Sawyer, who is chairman of the hospital board of the veterans bureau, said he had received no communication, personal or otherwise, from Gerald V. Barron, Minnesota state commander of the American legion, protesting against the reduction of accommodations for veterans at the new hospital at St. Cloud from 500 beds, as planned originally, to 250 beds.

Colonel R. U. Patterson, chief of the medical division of the veterans bureau, said provision was being made for only 250 beds because the number of patients in sight in the 10th district was less than that number.

"The hospital," Colonel Patterson said, "will be built according to present plans approved by the hospital board. If there are more applicants for admission and congress provides funds the hospital will be enlarged to meet the needs of the veterans in the district."

A. Henning, northwest strike leader, in St. Paul. The conference in no sense was a re-opening of previous strike settlement conferences, officials declared.

"Mr. Henning called a conference on his return from Chicago and asked that the railroads take part," R. W. Clark, secretary to Charles Donnelly, president of the Northern Pacific, said. "Representatives attended the conference out of courtesy to Mr. Henning, and reiterated their previous statement that strike settlement negotiations, as far as we are concerned, are over."

Basis Called "Impossible"

The Jewell arrangement to end the walkout was called "an impossible basis for settlement" in a statement issued by Mr. Donnelly, speaking as representative of the roads which joined in the conference.

"Each company stated it would be willing and glad to set to work as many of the men now on strike as it was possible to employ, that many or perhaps most of them could be employed, and that every effort would be made to find employment for all of them except those guilty of violence or of conduct which made a renewal of the old relations impossible," Mr. Donnelly's statement said. "But the representatives of each company made it clear that it was the purpose of these lines to protect at all costs the loyal employees who remained at work and the new men now employed, to whose services the companies in question are indebted for having been enabled to operate their properties."

Plan to Continue Fight

The federated shopcrafts will continue the fight against the railroads refusing to subscribe to the agreement, Mr. Henning said, and will make every effort to prevent union men from going back to work, drawing contributions from the 15,000 men in the northwest who will be re-employed under the Chicago agreement, to aid in carrying on the fight.

"We will maintain our picket lines until a settlement is reached, and will refuse to let any union men enter the shops not parties to the agreement," Mr. Henning said. "The

Service Held Measure of Results

In answer to Mr. Donnelly's statement, Mr. Henning declared "the results of the strike will be measured by the ability of the railroads to furnish service to the public." The fight by unions against the four railroads will be continued until a settlement is reached, and every effort will be exerted to keep union men together to combat them, he said.

Strike headquarters would not give definite information as to how the federated shopcrafts plan to prevent the return of union men to work in shops on lines which have not accepted the Chicago settlement, beyond a statement that "the men themselves will see that there is no weakening."

"There has been too much publicity already," Mr. Adams, assistant to Mr. Henning said.

Rail heads flatly denied the statement of Mr. Henning that the strike is crippling traffic on their lines. Conditions are not normal as yet, W. H. Bremmer, president of the Minneapolis & St. Louis, said, but a steady increase is being shown in the number of men employed and in the capacity of shops and roundhouses. Mr. Bremmer repeated his declaration that the railroads are "going through" to a normal basis according to their present plan, without any settlement with the striking shopmen of the northwest.

Bremmer Cites Misunderstanding

The Minneapolis & St. Louis was included in the list of railroads first announced as subscribing to the Chicago agreement on the information given the conference by S. Davies Warfield, mediator for the railroads which signed the agreement. Mr. Henning's statement said Mr. Warfield told the conference that Newnam Erb, member of the board of directors of the Minneapolis & St. Louis, was acting as strike settlement representative for the road and favored the settlement, Mr. Henning said.

ST. CLOUD PROTEST DENIED BY SAWYER

Washington, Sept. 16.—Brigadier General C. E. Sawyer, who is chairman of the hospital board of the veterans bureau, said he had received no communication, personal or otherwise, from Gerald V. Barron, Minnesota state commander of the American legion, protesting against the reduction of accommodations for veterans at the new hospital at St. Cloud from 500 beds, as planned originally, to 250 beds.

Colonel R. U. Patterson, chief of the medical division of the veterans bureau, said provision was being made for only 250 beds because the number of patients in sight in the 10th district was less than that number.

"The hospital," Colonel Patterson said, "will be built according to present plans approved by the hospital board. If there are more applicants for admission and congress provides funds the hospital will be enlarged to meet the needs of the veterans in the district."

N. P. Reached Jamestown 30 Years Ago

Jamestown, N. D., Sept. 16.—It was thirty years ago this month that the Northern Pacific tracks reached Jamestown and the first regular train entered the city.

James Kelly is perhaps the first "dollar-a-year" man in the state. He received that magnificent sum for acting as postmaster here. These are among the interesting pioneer history facts collected by Rev. E. E. Saunders, Fargo historian.

Shopmen's Side of Controversy As Given by Publicity Committee

STRIKE BULLETIN

In contrast with this injunction stands the injunction granted by Justice Bourquin, of Helena, Montana, wherein he declared in substance as follows:

"It must be remembered the strike is lawful, and both parties thereto, if so foolish to put it mildly, as to persist in disagreement, are to have the fullest freedom within the law, each to promote its or their success over the other, that is plaintiff to secure employees if it lawfully can; defendants to prevent if they lawfully can. . . ."

"By the Clayton Act Congress recognizes the necessity and value of labor unions and labor activities in the matter of conditions of employment; that they have done and are yet capable of a great work; that to the workman and his, a job is life, wherein eternal vigilance is no less the price of a job than of liberty; and that its loss too often changes the current of human lives and spells disaster. Hence, the Clayton Act to aid his last ditch struggle to retain his job against all comers. To that end the act provides the workmen may 'recommend, advise and persuade' and by all lawful means 'fairly' within the import of those terms. All art, eloquence, oratory and logic are open to the workmen to accomplish persuasion.

"Fair and vigorous argument to those who will listen is legitimate.

No reason appears why workmen may not model after congressional oratory or after what is fairly inferable in the consultation room of the Supreme Court on occasion, say of some decision by the odd justice. Human nature is everywhere alike, and every man is or ought to be earnest, enthusiastic and fearless in his own if good cause.

"It is not believed that the American Steel Foundries case decided by the Supreme Court on Dec. 5, 1921 imports otherwise. In it is no purpose to denature or weasel the Act and limit workmen to methods akin to pink teas and scented notes of invitation. They have their own virile vocabulary and manner, and so long as within the Clayton Act there is no censor upon their use.

"The principal thing is that workmen conscientiously heed the orders of the law and its instruments (the Courts) that threats and force and their intimidation must not be used to promote strikes, and that of necessity, theirs as well as others, such methods always have been and always will be under the ban and criminal. In respect to pickets, defendants will be allowed two at any point of access to plain-tiff's premises where men usually or may be expected to enter. If the entrants are numerous, perhaps more may be necessary. The Clayton Act by 'person or persons' intends that the number of agents shall be governed by circumstances. Obviously, not otherwise could the object of the act be attained."

The foregoing is in substance the position of the Federated Shop Craft and in fact of the entire labor movement. Furthermore, it is a fair and impartial interpretation of the Clayton Act and no injunction is necessary to obtain compliance with it by 99 per cent of the members in these organizations, and those who may unconsciously infringe its provisions can be properly taken care of by the local civil authorities without recourse either to Federal Authorities or a Federal Injunction. Therefore the position of the Federated Shop Crafts with respect to the Attorney General's injunction is in substance as follows:

Where the injunction is intended to curb lawlessness of all characters and to preserve life and property, it will be observed, as this was and would have been our policy regardless of the injunction. But where the injunction intends to infringe upon the constitutional rights of free citizens or where it intends to nullify the labor provisions of the Clayton Act, or where it is in conflict with decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States, it cannot and will not be accepted and if this position is a violation of the injunction, Mr. Daugherty will change it.

"MAHENDRA" IN
BRAINERD SOON

To be Given Under Auspices of the Brainerd Lodge of Elks at Brainerd October 6

AT CROSBY NEXT EVENING

Receipts from Both Performances
 Will be for the Benefit of the
 Elks Building Fund

Colonel Hunt, "The grand old man of 50 years in the show business", arrived in Brainerd Thursday, and made arrangements with Clyde E.
 Parker of the New Park theatre, and chairman of the Elks house and social committee, for the appearance of "Mahendra" and his company to present two entertainments for the
 B. P. O. E. No. 615, one at the New Park in Brainerd on Friday evening,
 Oct. 6th, and the other at the Peoples theatre in Crosby, probably the next evening. No. 615 has about 225 members on the range who will boost this attraction and assure a big turn-out.

The receipts from both performances will be for the benefit of the Elks building fund.

Col. Hunt has the reputation of representing more star attractions than any man in the theatrical world. He has toured America's greatest prima donnas, such as "Nevada" and Madam Schuman-Heink.
 Added to these might be mentioned
 Gilmore's Band, Walter Damrosch
 Band of Paris, Weber and Field, Buffalo Bill's tour of Europe, the Sheehans Grand Opera Co. It was he who had the Andrews Opera Company for many years. This company will be membered by many of our older citizens from the train wreck that they were in, in which their private car was burned and several members of the caste lost their lives.

"Mahendra" and his celebrated company has a record of playing one solid year in Chicago. This week they are in Duluth. Any attractions fostered by the Brainerd Elks has always "Gone Over Big", and it is believed that "Mahendra" will be no exception, except that it will possibly go over bigger than any of the others.

FRANCE ASKS CUT TO PRE-WAR ARMS COST

RESOLUTION WILL BE PRESENT-ED TO LEAGUE ASSEMBLY—
 U. S. NOT INCLUDED

Geneva, Sept. 16.—The assembly disarmament committee has decided to recommend to the assembly of the League of Nations a resolution introduced by M. De Jouvonal of France, asking all countries except those whose juridical situation has been changed, to reduce their expenditure for armaments to the figures of 1913.
 This would exclude the United States and Canada as well as Spain, which is at war with Morocco.

The idea is to make it apply to all European states under present circumstances having no excuses for maintaining bigger armaments than before the war. The following countries are spending more for military purposes than before the war. Great Britain,
 19 per cent; India, 14; Australia, 17;
 Canada, 7 1/2; New Zealand, 15; Portugal, 7 1/4; Japan, 62; Denmark, 33;
 Holland, 48; Sweden, 20.

Belgium, which is spending 82 per cent more than before the war, is excused because she had virtually no army in 1913, but was protected by treaties of neutrality.

The countries which are spending less than in 1913 are: South Africa,
 35 per cent; Rumania, 23; Italy, 46;
 Brazil, 45; France, 8; Switzerland, 39;
 Norway, 14.3.

GOOD ROADS AID IN BUILDING COUNTY

John J. Grove, Owner of Piney Crest Lodge on Cross Lake, Voices His Appreciation

WRITES CHAMBER COMMERCE
Brought More Guests to His Place and Guests and Owner Spent More Money in Brainerd

John J. Grove, proprietor of Piney Crest Lodge on Cross Lake, in a letter to O. J. Bouma, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, states his opinions on the matter of good roads and their relation to the upbuilding of the county as well as helping business in Brainerd. His letter is as follows:

Dear Sir: I will say that as the roads have improved in the last few years, I have noticed a steady increase of traffic to and from my place, and throughout this section.

One of the main questions my correspondents from other states ask when writing to me for accommodations is, "How are your roads in that section?" Those who have been coming here for several years past have noticed the improvement each season, especially in the new highway from Brainerd to Remer, which is now about completed to our township line.

This road has so improved that many of my guests now make frequent visits to Brainerd and do their shopping, and I think that I can safely say that $200 will not cover the amount they have spent among my merchants this summer. I, too, have been a frequent patron to your city, and usually spend from twenty-five to fifty dollars for provisions and other supplies each time. Formerly I was not able to do this on account of the poor roads.

One of the first things I began talking on when I came here about eight years ago was the poor condition of the roads, and some of the people around here took exception to me "bitching in" as I did, but I notice, and they notice the big improvements in the highways, just the same.

Now, Mr. Bouma, if you and your people in Brainerd will insist on the above named new highway being continued north from Cross Lake over the old logging railroad toward Longville, you will open up a new territory that is now patrolling towns east and west of them and also the mail order houses of the Twin Cities and Chicago. If the new road goes by way of Emily, Brainerd will not be benefited much.

Mr. Grove emphasizes several good points in this letter, which should not be overlooked in the trade extension campaign that Brainerd will be making for next season.

GOOD ROADS AID IN BUILDING COUNTY

John J. Grove, Owner of Piney Crest Lodge on Cross Lake, Voices His Appreciation

WRITES CHAMBER COMMERCE Brought More Guests to His Place and Guests and Owner Spent More Money in Brainerd

John J. Grove, proprietor of Piney Crest Lodge on Cross Lake, in a letter to O. J. Bouma, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, states his opinions on the matter of good roads and their relation to the upbuilding of the county as well as helping business in Brainerd. His letter is as follows:

Dear Sir: I will say that as the roads have improved in the last few years, I have noticed a steady increase of traffic to and from my place, and throughout this section.

LIMITING THE WORK OF GRAND JURIES

STUDENTS of the machinery of the law courts of this and other states are devising means by which the criminal will be brought more speedily to a trial, which will be impartial and fair but freed of those many technicalities which in the past have defeated the ends of justice.

Conventions meeting during this year have discussed various phases of legal procedure, and definite recommendations have been made looking to the end already mentioned.

The relative merit of these will be duly considered when they are presented to the legislature in the form of measures to be placed upon the statute books. One such recommendation has to do with narrowing the scope of the grand jury's operations, and there is much to be said in its favor. But there may be some question as to whether it will result in any great saving of the expense of the operation of the district court. The plan contemplates calling a grand jury only in those cases where the penalty for the crime is ten years imprisonment or more, in all cases where the sentence would be less severe the accused would go to the petit jury for trial on the complaint of the prosecuting attorney and without examination by the grand jury.

There seem to be two objections to this recommendation. The first is that if minor cases of law breaking are not brought before the grand jury where some would probably fail to bring an indictment, such cases will go directly to the petit jury on the complaint of the prosecuting attorney and the costs of their trial will offset any saving resulting from dispensing with the grand jury. And, second, there will be no opportunity afforded for considering those other matters which lie within the province of the grand jury—misfeasance in office, prevalence of crime and public nuisances, ect.

THE HOME TAKES FIRST PLACE

IN THE annual meeting of the Minnesota Federation of Women's clubs, speakers have emphasized the importance of training efficient housewives. That stress should be placed upon this commonplace duty amid all the complexities which confront the delegates assembled in convention is of interest to the mere man who looks on from the outside. And of course the men approve. Men generally are far too charitable to exclaim, "We told you so." But all along they have had a sneaking idea that the most important place in a woman's world is the home.

The time is past when either men or women are awake to life's advances conclude that a woman is a better housewife because she confines all her interests to the limits of the home. An intelligent appreciation of outside affairs will the better fit a woman for the discharge of the duties of a housewife; and women have very wisely come to see that the home is affected by conditions which originate outside. Of course if all home life was good there would be little need for efforts to take care of outside evils which in time threaten the welfare of the best homes; and good women, knowing this, are going out into the social and civic life of the community for the purpose of improving conditions.

The emphasis which the women have placed on the home discredits those who suggest that by entering into the life outside of the home women are neglecting their most important duty. They are proving that they are seeking to fit themselves and women generally for this most important of all of a woman's tasks.

PRIMARY ELECTION RESULTS

THE republican party leaders are finding encouragement in the results of the primary elections of this week in Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan and Washington. In each of these states the administration candidates were endorsed by handsome majorities.

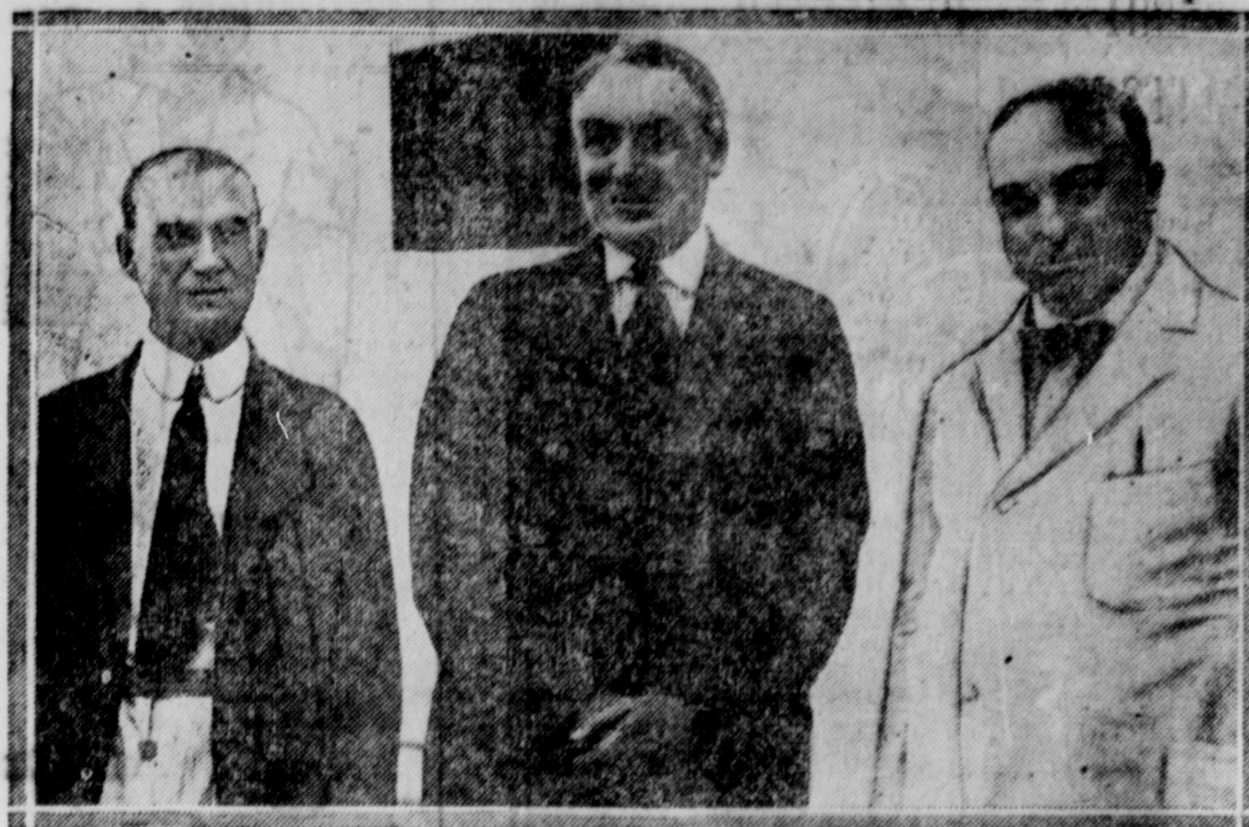

There is reason to conclude that the tendency to down administration candidates is passing. People are coming to see that there are some things which a government cannot avoid and many things that a government cannot do. The government cannot create a demand for produce of the farm, or goods from the factory, because the produce is too lavish or the goods too plentiful. The government cannot compel men to work when they refuse to work. The government cannot in a minute or a year adjust the disordered conditions resulting from the World War which has reduced the buying power of the nations at the same time. Therefore the electors are coming to see that the only way to be relieved by changing the government is by a readjustment.

Indications point to the fact that there never was a time when people looked more anxiously to their legislators for wise leadership than at present. Voters are daily coming to the conclusion that we are on the edge of one of the most prosperous periods of American history, and given the assurance that candidates for office are intent upon advancing the best interests of their constituents, they are prepared to cast their votes for experienced legislators as against those who offer theories and criticisms but fail to convince the electors that they have a cure-all for the complex problems which confront the congress of the United States during these days.

TURKEY is upset, Greece is spilled, and the peace of Europe is threatened.

We can now hope for a Merry Christmas. Who thinks high freight rates and big coal bills on Christmas Eve.

HARDING CONFERS WITH LEADERS FROM HOME STATE

OTHER PEOPLES' OPINIONS

CONSTITUTION DAY

In the twelfth year of our independence, on September 17, 1787 a delegation of great Americans from the colonies met in convention to ratify the constitution of the United States of America.

Rarely have men been privileged to subscribe to as big and righteous a document.

The Constitution with starry penants streaming from its multitudinous gables has been the roof tree of our beloved America for a hundred and thirty-five years. During this brief period, the world marveled to see the magic rise and progress of the incredibly prosperous nation, for under the regime of the constitution, we have enjoyed both temporal and spiritual liberty. We have accumulated unheard of wealth, erected immense institutions of industry and education, made vital and lasting discoveries along scientific, economic, socialistic, inventive and governmental lines. Not we alone have enjoyed the shelter and uplift of this canopy of freedom—but thousands upon thousands of wretched people under the lash of autocracy also.

In 1914, when Mars hurled its meteoric ball of disorder into the peaceful seas of Europe, it stirred up savagery centuries old. And lawlessness has been profusely afloat upon its troubled waters ever since. And wherever it washes up on the shore, it sticks to that land like barnacles to a ship.

"Listen, Americans, Listen." Can't you hear those wild waves beating, beating against our governmental structure? Of course we know the principles upon which our government is founded can never be dissolved, but is it nothing to you or to me if America goes down in a heap? Let us rouse from the mania of making money, taking money, saving money, grabbing money, and hoarding it. Bury the Bolshevik hatchet, dig up the good old hammer of law and order, each one a color bearer sees a flag and marches forward to the tune of the Hymn of the Republic.

SKIN DISEASE

Any skin disease such as acne, eczema, psoriasis, etc., is very unpleasant, but if the organs of elimination are working properly there will be no skin disease. If there is subluxation (displacement) of the vertebrae (small bones of the spine), causing nerve pressure and preventing the vital force from flowing freely to the kidneys, the latter will not function properly and the excretion will be thrown off by the pores of the skin, causing eczema and similar disorders. TRY CHIROPRACTIC VERTEBRAL ADJUSTMENTS for skin trouble and keep your eliminatory organs "up to par."

LIMITING THE WORK OF GRAND JURIES

STUDENTS of the machinery of the law courts of this and other states are devising means by which the criminal will be brought more speedily to a trial, which will be impartial and fair but freed of those many technicalities which in the past have defeated the ends of justice.

Conventions meeting during this year have discussed various phases of legal procedure, and definite recommendations have been made looking to the end already mentioned.

The relative merit of these will be duly considered when they are presented to the legislature in the form of measures to be placed upon the statute books. One such recommendation has to do with narrowing the scope of the grand jury's operations, and there is much to be said in its favor. But there may be some question as to whether it will result in any great saving of the expense of the operation of the district court. The plan contemplates calling a grand jury only in those cases where the penalty for the crime is ten years imprisonment or more, in all cases where the sentence would be less severe the accused would go to the petit jury for trial on the complaint of the prosecuting attorney and without examination by the grand jury.

There seem to be two objections to this recommendation. The first is that if minor cases of law breaking are not brought before the grand jury where some would probably fail to bring an indictment, such cases will go directly to the petit jury on the complaint of the prosecuting attorney and the costs of their trial will offset any saving resulting from dispensing with the grand jury. And, second, there will be no opportunity afforded for considering those other matters which lie within the province of the grand jury—misfeasance in office, prevalence of crime and public nuisances, etc.

THE HOME TAKES FIRST PLACE

IN THE annual meeting of the Minnesota Federation of Women's clubs, speakers have emphasized the importance of training efficient housewives. That stress should be placed upon this commonplace duty amid all the complexities which confront the delegates assembled in convention is of interest to the mere man who looks on from the outside. And of course the men approve. Men generally are far too charitable to exclaim, "We told you so." But all along they have had a sneaking idea that the most important place in a woman's world is the home.

The time is past when either men or women are awake to life's advances conclude that a woman is a better housewife because she confines all her interests to the limits of the home. An intelligent appreciation of outside affairs will the better fit a woman for the discharge of the duties of a housewife; and women have very wisely come to see that the home is affected by conditions which originate outside. Of course if all home life was good there would be little need for efforts to take care of outside evils which in time threaten the welfare of the best homes; and good women, knowing this, are going out into the social and civic life of the community for the purpose of improving conditions.

PRIMARY ELECTION RESULTS

THE republican party leaders are finding encouragement in the results of the primary elections of this week in Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan and Washington. In each of these states the administration candidates were endorsed by handsome majorities.

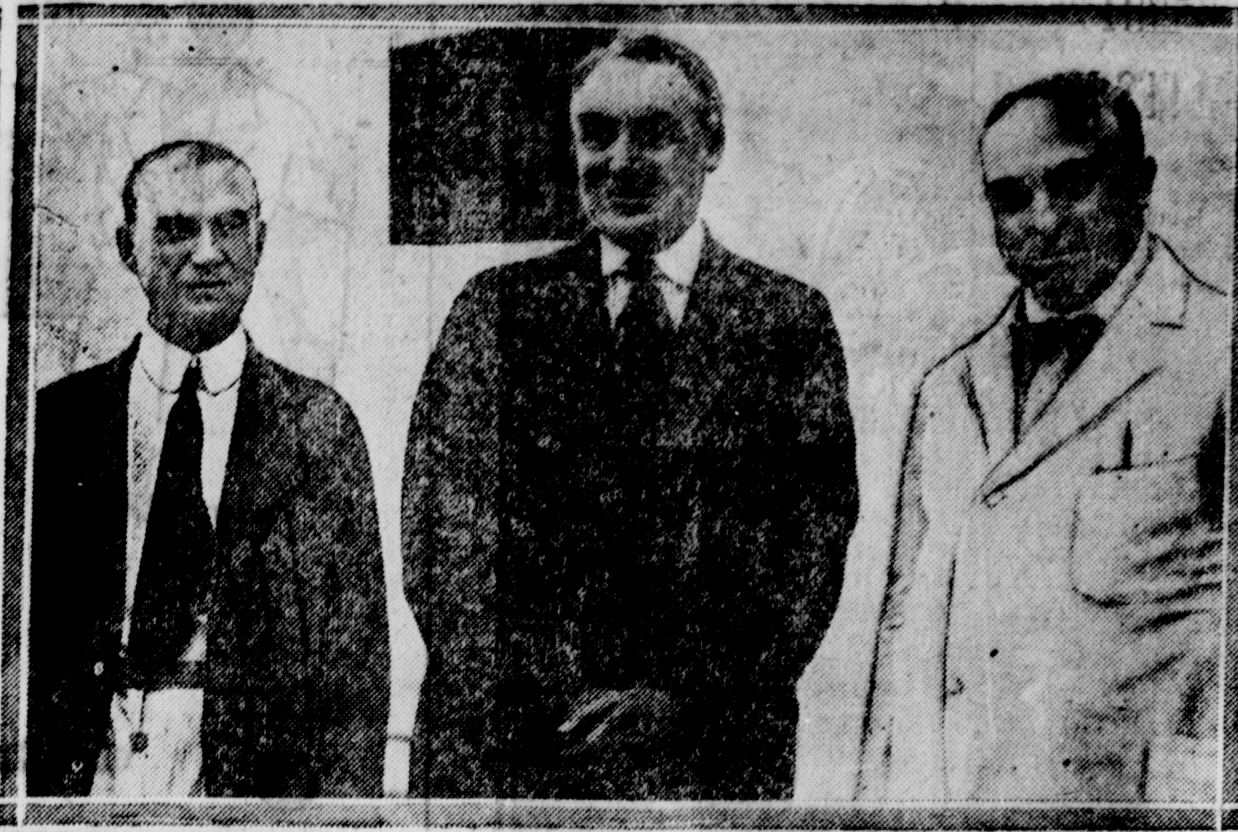

There is reason to conclude that the tendency to down administration candidates is passing. People are coming to see that there are some things which a government cannot avoid and many things that a government cannot do. The government cannot create a demand for produce of the farm, or goods from the factory, because the produce is too lavish or the goods too plentiful. The government cannot compel men to work when they refuse to work. The government cannot in a minute or a year adjust the disordered conditions resulting from the world war which has reduced the buying power of the nations at the end of the war. Therefore the electors are seeking a more realistic adjustment.

Indications point to the fact that there never was a time when people looked more anxiously to their legislators for wise leadership than at present. Voters are daily coming to the conclusion that we are on the edge of one of the most prosperous periods of American history, and given the assurance that candidates for office are intent upon advancing the best interests of their constituents, they are prepared to cast their votes for experienced legislators as against those who offer theories and criticisms but fail to convince the electors that they have a cure-all for the complex problems which confront the congress of the United States during these days.

TURKEY is upset, Greece is spilled, and the peace of Europe is threatened.

WE can now hope for a Merry Christmas. Who thinks high freight rates and big coal bills will ruin it.

HARDING CONFERS WITH LEADERS FROM HOME STATE

OTHER PEOPLES' OPINIONS

CONSTITUTION DAY

In the twelfth year of our independence, on September 17, 1787 a delegation of great Americans from the colonies met in convention to ratify the constitution of the United States of America.

Rarely have men been privileged to subscribe to as big and righteous a document. The Constitution with starry penants streaming from its multitudinous gables has been the roof tree of our beloved America for a hundred and thirty-five years. During this brief period, the world marveled to see the magic rise and progress of the incredibly prosperous nation, for under the regime of the constitution, we have enjoyed both temporal and spiritual liberty. We have accumulated unheard of wealth, erected immense institutions of industry and education, made vital and lasting discoveries along scientific, economic, socialistic, inventive and governmental lines. Not we alone have enjoyed the shelter and uplift of this canopy of freedom—but thousands upon thousands of wretched people under the lash of autocracy also.

In 1914, when Mars hurled its meteoric ball of disorder into the political seas of Europe, it stirred up savagery centuries old. And lawlessness has been profusely afloat upon its troubled waters ever since. And wherever it washes up on the shore, it sticks to that land like barnacles to a ship. "Listen, Americans, Listen." Can't you hear those wild waves beating, beating against our governmental structure? Of course we know the principles upon which our government is founded can never be dissolved, but is it nothing to you or to me if America goes down in a heap? Let us rouse from the mania of making money, taking money, saving money, grabbing money, and hoarding it. Bury the Bolshevik hatchet, dig up the good old hammer of law and order, each one a color bearer sees a flag and marches forward to the tune of the Hymn of the Republic.

SKIN DISEASE

Any skin disease such as acne, eczema, psoriasis, etc., is very unpleasant, but if the organs of elimination are working properly there will be no skin disease. If there is subluxation (displacement) of the vertebrae (small bones of the spine), causing nerve pressure and preventing the vital force from flowing freely to the kidneys, the latter will not function properly and the excretion will be thrown off by the pores of the skin, causing eczema and similar disorders. TRY CHIROPRACTIC VERTEBRAL ADJUSTMENTS for skin trouble and keep your eliminatory organs "up to par."

Brainerd Turned Out in Force Friday and Made it a Big Day at County Fair in Pequot

SEN. MICHAEL BOYLAN SPOKE

Said the Marl Deposits in County Were Very Satisfactory, and the Location Ideal

Brainerd turned out in force Friday, and made it "Brainerd Day" at the Crow Wing county fair in fact as well as name.

Friday was the big day of the celebration. Every minute of the day was filled with an excellent program. Michael Boylan, state senator from Virginia, and P. H. McGarry, senator from Walker, made excellent speeches in the morning.

Mr. Boylan spoke on the rich mail deposits which he has examined in this county as a member of the Senate investigation committee, with a view of locating a state owned cement plant. He stated in his talk that he would do all in his power to get the necessary appropriation for the plant. He expressed himself as very enthusiastic over his findings in this county, saying that these deposits of marl were very satisfactory and that it is in an ideal location.

Mr. McGarry in speech brought greetings from Cass county. He said that he had often wondered why Crow Wing county had placed her fair off in the extreme northwestern edge of the county, but he believed that he had found the reason in the fact that the fair board wanted the support of Cass county farmers to make this fair the success that it is.

L. C. Hodgson, former mayor of St. Paul, addressed the audience in the grandstand in the afternoon on the subject of "Goodfellowship", and the manner in which gatherings such as meet at a fair tend to further that feeling. Mr. Hodgson pleaded for an era of good fellowship, pointing out the benefits which would be derived by community, state and nation. The speaker was introduced by Dr. J. A. Thabes, of Brainerd.

Brainerd and Pequot crossed bats in a lively ball game, in which both teams ran neck and neck through the first half of the game with a score of 2 to 2. Pequot finally forged ahead and won the game, the results being 4 to 2. Walter Murphy and E. K. Emerson umpired.

Everyone was very enthusiastic in their praise of the exhibits this year. The showing of farm products, poultry and dairy stock were especially good. The radio exhibit and the mine exhibit, which included a miniature mine in operation, drew a big audience at all times, as did the fancy work and cooking booths in the women's section.

The Brainerd Municipal band furnished the music for the day, assisted by the Jenkins band. The free open air attraction before the grandstand were of a high order, the performers being artists in their respective lines.

Saturday is designated as "Range Day". The Crosby band will play, and the Crosby ball team will meet the Pequot nine. This will undoubtedly be a hard fought battle, as Crosby supports a very strong team. Also a number of her old players are back after finishing the season in the Dakota leagues.

Ideal autumn weather and the roads in good condition, have done much toward bringing out a large attendance. It is estimated that four thousand admissions passed through the gates Friday. The range should make nearly as good a showing today.

FIRE DEPARTMENT BUSY

Answers Calls, 721 Pine Street Barn Fire, 515 North 10th Street Residence Fire

The fire department answered two calls this morning. One at three o'clock, when the barn belonging to John Philstrom, 721 Pine St., burned to the ground, the other at eight o'clock when the residence of Chas. Witham, 515 North 10th street, took fire, supposedly from a defective stovepipe.

Mr. Witham works at the Northwest Paper mill, and his wife had just taken him to work when the fire was discovered. By the time she returned, the firemen had arrived on the scene, carried out most of the household effects, and extinguished the blaze.

A large amount of damage was done by water to the personal property, and by fire to the interior of the building.

PRESBYTERIAN SUNDAY SCHOOL

Officers and Teachers Held an Enthusiastic Meeting Thursday Evening, Miss Hannah Falconer, Supt.

The teachers and officers of the Sunday school of the First Presbyterian church held an enthusiastic meeting on Thursday evening. Miss Hannah Falconer, a former superintendent of the school, has been appointed superintendent. During Miss Falconer's previous administration the school reached its highest point, both in enrollment, attendance and efficiency, being for a time the banner school in Crow Wing Co. The pastor reported that he was able to report an available efficient teacher for every vacancy and a number of appointments were made, replacing those not reporting for service.

A committee, consisting of Miss Georgia Brown and Miss Ellen Dillan, was appointed to complete the arrangements for the "Rally Day" program, which is to be held on the second Sunday in October. A good program is assured.

It was agreed that a monthly council meeting would be held during the winter months, the first to be at the call of the superintendent after which a stated night of meeting would be arranged.

LITTLE FALLS TO CELEBRATE PAVING

St. Paul, Sept. 14—Minnesota autoists will gather at Little Falls in October to celebrate the completion of 30 miles of paving between there and St. Cloud. McCree, Moos & Co., contractors making the road, expect to have it all laid by October 15. The contract is the biggest single one of its kind ever laid in Minnesota.

Arrangements for the celebration are being made by the Jefferson Highway Association with Henry Orme in St. Paul, general chairman, and J. K. Martin, Little Falls, in charge of the program there.

SENATE COMMITTEE INVESTIGATES MARL

Large Delegation Headed by Chairman Walter M. Murphy Met Senatorial Party Here

BASS, KIMBALL, STAR LAKES

Deposits Visited at Points Named, Samples Taken for Tests—Banquet at "Breezy Point"

The special Senate Committee, headed by Michael Boylan, were very favorably impressed by their findings in the Crow Wing county marl beds.

The committee was met at the train by representative citizens of the county, and by Hon. P. H. McGarry, senator from Walker, who stopped in Brainerd on his trip home from the cities, when he found that there were plans on foot for utilizing Northern Minnesota's natural resources.

A large delegation, headed by Chairman Walter M. Murphy of the special committee of commerce, accompanied the senators on their tour of investigation. Stops were made at Bass, Kimball and Star lakes to test the marl deposits and samples were taken for special analysis by expert cement specialists later.

The senate committee expressed themselves as greatly surprised at the quantity and rich quality of the marl found in the county. A further investigation will now be necessary to look into available clay supplies, for mixing with the marl for cement making, freight rates, and other elements entering into the question of locating a state-owned cement plant which is contemplated in an act which will be brought before the next legislature.

The committee were taken from their investigations to "Breezy Point Lodge" where they were given an informal reception and entertained at a banquet in their honor, and where provisions had been previously made for their stopping over night.

Friday they proceeded to Pequot, where they attended the county fair and joined the party from St. Paul, consisting of L. C. Hodgson, George N. Briggs and Jesse Foote. "Larry Ho" was on the program for an address at the fair.

CLOVER COUNTY (?) IS VERY AMBITIOUS

It is reported that Pine River people are agitating anew the division of Cass county, the southern portion to be called "Clover County", with Pine River the county seat.

The movement on foot is to annex the north row of townships in Crow Wing county to the new Clover county, giving our county the tier of townships adjoining Crow Wing on the west in exchange.

It has been contended for some time that these townships on our west rightly belong to this county, and most of the residents of that territory would rather be included in Crow Wing than Cass. But whether our people will be enthusiastic about losing our north row of townships, is another matter.

The balance of the cast iron water pipe ordered in July by the Water & Light Board has arrived and is being distributed in those blocks where old Kalomein pipe is to be replaced. The regular crew used earlier in the season had to be laid off for several weeks due to failure of pipe to be received on time.

Six inch pipe will now be laid on Maple street N. E., eight inch on Second avenue and four inch on First avenue; the system in the third ward, as a whole, will then be in as good an order as in any other part of the city.

PARRANTO AND GEMMELL CONFER

General Chairman of the Boilermakers of Northwestern Roads Meets M. & I. Head

ABOUT STRIKE AGREEMENT

Mr. Parranto Will Speak to All Strikers Tonight at Labor Hall at 8 O'clock

W. A. Parranto, of St. Paul, general chairman of the boilermakers on northwest roads, arrived in Brainerd Saturday morning, and went into conference with W. H. Gemmell, president of the Minnesota and International Railway, and other officials of that road, looking toward an agreement settling the strike of the shopmen in the Bemidji shops.

It was reported Friday that the strike on the M. & I. had been settled and that the men would go back to work on Monday, Sept. 18th. It is hoped that this will be possible and that an agreement will be reached today.

Mr. Gemmell came down from Bemidji Friday evening, his car being attached to the local freight. He has been kept busy in Bemidji since the beginning of the strike, this being his first official visit since the walk-out.

Mr. Parranto will speak to all strikers tonight, September 16th, at Trades and Labor hall at 8 o'clock, on matters pertinent to the strike situation. All shopmen are urgently requested to be present at this meeting.

Meeting Successful

The meeting this morning between officials of the M. & I. and William Parranto, representative of the strikers was successful, in that an agreement was signed by the contracting parties, and the men put back to work Monday.

Officials state that many returned to their duties in the Bemidji shops this morning, in anticipation of an agreement being signed.

As to just what terms were reached is not known, other than the fact that M. & I. shopmen are to do no work on defective rolling equipment belonging to the Northern Pacific or other railroads that have not yet come to an agreement with their men.

Agreement With N. P. Seems Remote

An agreement between the Northern Pacific and the striking shopmen seems to be as remote as ever.

Carpenters arrived this morning from Duluth and are commencing work on another set of buildings for housing replacement men on the shop grounds.

Plans call for six bunk houses and a large dining hall and kitchen combined to be erected just south of the foundry. Each bunk house is to accommodate fifty men.

These buildings in addition to similar ones already built on the north side of the shops provide quarters for quite a number of men, and it is rumored that by Monday, Sept. 18th, there will be at least seven hundred men at work in the Brainerd shops.

Quarters have already been erected on Garfield avenue Duluth for housing 299 men at work for the Northern Pacific there, and further quarters at Staples, and it rather looks as if that company were preparing a long fight over the strike question.

PRESBYTERIAN SUNDAY SCHOOL

Officers and Teachers Held an Enthusiastic Meeting Thursday Evening, Miss Hannah Falconer, Supt.

The teachers and officers of the Sunday school of the First Presbyterian church held an enthusiastic meeting on Thursday evening. Miss Hannah Falconer, a former superintendent of the school, has been appointed superintendent. During Miss Falconer's previous administration the school reached its highest point, both in enrollment, attendance and efficiency, being for a time the banner school in Crow Wing Co. The pastor reported that he was able to report an available efficient teacher for every vacancy and a number of appointments were made, replacing those not reporting for service.

A committee, consisting of Miss Georgia Brown and Miss Ellen Dulan, was appointed to complete the arrangements for the "Rally Day" program, which is to be held on the second Sunday in October. A good program is assured.

It was agreed that a monthly council meeting would be held during the winter months, the first to be at the call of the superintendent after which a stated night of meeting would be arranged.

SENATE COMMITTEE INVESTIGATES MARL

Large Delegation Headed by Chairman Walter M. Murphy Met Senatorial Party Here

BASS, KIMBALL, STAR LAKES

Deposits Visited at Points Named, Samples Taken for Tests—Banquet at "Breezy Point"

The special Senate Committee, headed by Michael Boylan, were very favorably impressed by their findings in the Crow Wing county marl beds.

The committee was met at the train by representative citizens of the county, and by Hon. P. H. McGarry, senator from Walker, who stopped in Brainerd on his trip home from the cities, when he found that there were plans on foot for utilizing Northern Minnesota's natural resources.

A large delegation, headed by Chairman Walter M. Murphy of the special Chamber of Commerce committee, accompanied the senators on their tour of investigation. Stops were made at Bass, Kimball and Star lakes to test the marl deposits and samples were taken for special analysis by expert cement specialists later.

The senate committee expressed themselves as greatly surprised at the quantity and rich quality of the marl found in this county. A further investigation will now be necessary to look into available clay supplies, for mixing with the marl for cement making, freight rates, and other elements entering into the question of locating a state-owned cement plant which is contemplated in an act which will be brought before the next legislature.

The committee were taken from their investigations to "Breezy Point Lodge", where they were given an informal reception and entertained at a banquet in their honor, and where provisions had been previously made for their stopping over night.

Friday they proceeded to Pequot, where they attended the county fair and joined the party from St. Paul, consisting of L. C. Hodgson, George N. Briggs and Jesse Foote. "Larry Ho" was on the program for an address at the fair.

CLOVER COUNTY (?) IS VERY AMBITIOUS

It is reported that Pine River people are agitating anew the division of Cass county, the southern portion to be called "Clover County", with Pine River the county seat.

The movement on foot is to annex the north row of townships in Crow Wing county to the new Clover county, giving our county the tier of townships adjoining Crow Wing on the west in exchange.

It has been contended for some time that these townships on our west rightly belong to this county, and most of the residents of that territory would rather be included in Crow Wing than Cass. But whether our people will be enthusiastic about losing our north row of townships, is another matter.

The balance of the cast iron water pipe ordered in July by the Water & Light Board has arrived and is being distributed in those blocks where old Kalomein pipe is to be replaced. Six inch pipe will now be laid on Maple street N. E., eight inch on Second avenue and four inch on First avenue; the system in the third ward, as a whole, will then be in as good an order as in any other part of the city.

PARRANTO AND GEMMELL CONFER

General Chairman of the Boilermakers of Northwestern Roads Meets M. & I. Head

ABOUT STRIKE AGREEMENT

Mr. Parranto Will Speak to All Strikers Tonight at Labor Hall at 8 O'Clock

W. A. Parranto, of St. Paul, general chairman of the boilermakers on northwest roads, arrived in Brainerd Saturday morning, and went into conference with W. H. Gemmell, president of the Minnesota and International Railway, and other officials of that road, looking toward an agreement settling the strike of the shopmen in the Bemidji shops.

It was reported Friday that the strike on the M. & I. had been settled and that the men would go back to work on Monday, Sept. 18th. It is hoped that this will be possible and that an agreement will be reached today.

Mr. Gemmell came down from Bemidji Friday evening, his car being attached to the local freight. He has been kept busy in Bemidji since the beginning of the strike, this being his first official visit since the walk-out.

Mr. Parranto will speak to all strikers tonight, September 16th, at Trades and Labor hall at 8 o'clock, on matters pertinent to the strike situation. All shopmen are urgently requested to be present at this meeting.

Meeting Successful

The meeting this morning between officials of the M. & I. and William Parranto, representative of the strikers was successful, in that an agreement was signed by the contracting parties, and the men put back to work Monday.

Officials state that many returned to their duties in the Bemidji shops this morning, in anticipation of an agreement being signed.

As to just what terms were reached is not known, other than the fact that M. & I. shopmen are to do no work on defective rolling equipment belonging to the Northern Pacific or other railroads that have not yet come to an agreement with their men.

Agreement With N. P. Seems Remote

An agreement between the Northern Pacific and the striking shopmen seems to be as remote as ever.

Carpenters arrived this morning from Duluth and are commencing work on another set of buildings for housing replacement men on the shop grounds.

Plans call for six bunk houses and a large dining hall and kitchen combined to be erected just south of the foundry. Each bunk house is to accommodate fifty men.

These buildings in addition to similar ones already built on the north side of the shops provide quarters for quite a number of men, and it is rumored that by Monday, Sept. 18th, there will be at least seven hundred men at work in the Brainerd shops.

Quarters have already been erected on Garfield avenue, Duluth, for housing 200 men at work for the Northern Pacific there, and further quarters at Staples, and it rather looks as if that company were preparing a long fight over the strike question.

Thomas Micoch is the building foreman in charge. Lumber, cement, hardware, etc. were bought in Brainerd, and wiring and other labor were secured here.

The station is located at the corner of Broadway and Front and the service station proper, built of pressed brick and stone, will measure 16 by 18 feet in size. Concrete driveways clad to it covered with a canopy.

The balance of the buildings consisting of warehouse, garage, pump house and office will be erected early next spring on the same site.

TANGLE IN FEATHERWEIGHT TITLE

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Sept. 16.—In the middle over the featherweight situation, it seems that the New York boxing commission is the undisputed champion.

The commission tied the can to Johnny Kilbane because he would not accept the challenge of Johnny Dundee.

Dundee fought and beat Danny Frush for the commission's title after the solons had announced that Kilbane would be reinstated if he agreed to fight the winner.

Kilbane then signed an agreement to fight Dundee for the championship in New Jersey and the commission then stepped on the boat by telling Dundee he would lose his license if he fought Kilbane.

Try and figure it out!

While the commission undoubtedly was inspired by the loftiest motives, its attitude on the Johnny Wilson case does not seem to be fair.

Wilson is barred from working in New York because he would not accept the challenge of Harry Greb.

Greb wanted the middleweight championship before he won the American light-heavyweight crown and when Wilson was deposed, Greb was ordered to fight Dave Rosenberg for the title. Greb then turned it down.

If the commission does persist in its refusal to recognize Wilson as the middleweight champion, it at least should not deprive him of the opportunity to fight as the ex-champion.

While the boxing bosses might be a little more consistent in their stand against Kilbane, they did a good thing in stopping the Kilbane-Dundee fight. It was to have been twelve rounds in New Jersey, and they don't permit decisions there.

To amount to anything there would have to be a knockout. Dundee was knocked out once by a sheer accident and he hasn't the kick of a rheumatic mule.

It would have been just one of two things.

Dundee is one of the greatest marvels of the ring and he would be a worthy champion if he could get a recognized claim on the title. Only one person stands in his way—Johnny Kilbane. Old as he is, that Kilbane is still able to take care of himself.

Ted Kid Lewis isn't going so good since he got rid of all that ambition to become the heavyweight champion of Europe.

When Carpentier stopped him with a couple of punches, he went back to his own class and he's doing none too well there. In a recent bout with Marcel Thomas, a third rate French welterweight, he just escaped with a slight decision.

Bob Martin is another one who has faded out of the picture. Several years ago many smart boxing men thought that the A. E. F. and Allied Army champion would work himself to be a challenger for the big title, but he lacked something.

AMUSEMENTS

"A Stage Romance" in Final Day Here

The latest of William Farnum's photoplay successes, "A Stage Romance," produced by William Fox, will end its run here with tonight's showing at the Lyceum theatre. Lovers of the drama and dyed-in-the-wool "movie fans" have enjoyed equally this splendid picture.

At the Lyceum Sunday

Owen Moore is to appear at the Lyceum Sunday matinee and night in the well known stage comedy drama entitled "Mr. Barnes of N. Y."

"The Right to Love"

Mae Murray in

The film has a Turkish setting and to secure just the right atmosphere George Fitzmaurice, the producer, took the whole company to Florida. He secured permission to make scenes in a large house of Moorish design, located on one of the Florida keys and one of the show places of that region.

A six-mile boat ride was taken every day by the players from St.

Augustine to reach their "location." Then one day, while Mr. Fitzmaurice and his company were hard at work on "Interiors" a severe storm blew up outside.

The third day the weather cleared, but the sea was still running wild. Crossing it by boat was not to be thought of. Mr. Fitzmaurice was worried. He had engaged accommodations for the entire company on the train for New York the following morning. A sudden impulse led him to the telephone, by which one could talk under water to St. Augustine. The producer offered a large sum for airplanes to transport his entire company to the mainland.

So it was that an airplane ride over a raging sea was the preliminary to the long northbound journey, and Mae Murray, the petite little star, claims it was the most enjoyable feature of the whole Florida sojourn.

HOLY WAR MAY BE THE DESIRE OF THE TURKS

and all around are floating bodies of the dead.

One hundred thousand more are massed on the water front, many kneeling and praying for divine aid. American steamers are removing the victims as rapidly as possible. Every boat load of victims brings additional details of the horrors perpetrated at Smyrna. One report was that the patriarch of the Greek church was hacked to pieces and his remains thrown into the street. Six thousand Greeks surrounded in an enclosure in the residence district were said to have been burned alive.

Americans Destitute in Athens

Washington, Sept. 16.—Nearly 250 Americans are destitute in Athens following their flight from Smyrna, the state department declared today in an official communication to the American Red Cross. A constant stream of American refugees still is pouring into Greece, and are without resources to sustain themselves, it was said. They abandoned all their property in the city in the hasty flight from the fire. The government has no funds for relief and the notification was in the nature of an appeal to the Red Cross to learn what steps that organization can take.

American Consul Morris advised the state department that the United States destroyer "Edsall" had arrived at Saloniki with 600 refugees from Smyrna. Local authorities at Saloniki have food for 8,000 refugees, the consul reported, but clothing, blankets and milk are lacking.

Three Allies Make Statement

London, Sept. 16.—France, Great Britain and Italy informed Mustapha Kemal that the allied armies would oppose any attempt by the Turks to invade the neutral zone around Constantinople and the Dardanelles.

A note signed jointly by these three powers was dispatched to the Turkish nationalist commander.

He also was warned to make no statement he would cross the Bosphorus and the Dardanelles.

Britain Seeks Defense of Neutral Zone

London, Sept. 16.—Great Britain has invited Greece, Roumania, Serbia and the British dominions to participate in defense of the neutral zone around Constantinople and the Dardanelles menaced by the Turks, it was learned authoritatively today.

The troops of the United Kingdom already guarding Constantinople will be reinforced immediately.

This followed the dispatch of a joint note by Britain, France and Italy warning Mustapha Kemal not to attempt invasion of the neutral zone.

Britain, it was authoritatively stated, will exert efforts to insure permanent freedom of the Dardanelles and Bosphorus.

Declare 120,000 Greeks Massacred

Athens, Sept. 16.—Unconfirmed estimates from Armenian forces today were that a minimum of 70,000 Greeks were massacred in Smyrna and 50,000 elsewhere, in the path of the Turkish armies.

Bulgaria Sides With Moslems

Paris, Sept. 16.—Russia and Bulgaria were reported being lined up to aid the Turks in event of war with the allies.

Leo Kamenoff, commander in chief of the Russian army is hastening to Batum in Transcaucasia where the two Bolshevik divisions are being concentrated to assist the Turks if Constantinople is attacked, according to an agency radio dispatch from Moscow, via Riga, today.

The same agency reported that Hamed Riza Bey, former president of the Turkish chamber, has arrived at Sofia to negotiate for the Bulgaria-Turkish army which would bring Bulgaria in the war on the side of the Moslems.

He conferred with members of the Bulgarian cabinet today.

Townshend Urges Peace Be Made

(Copyright 1922 by United Press.) Paris, Sept. 16.—The allies must surrender Constantinople or participate in a holy war, which will menace the entire British Empire, General Sir Charles Townshend, hero of Kut El Amara, today declared to the United Press.

"We had better make peace with Mustapha Kemal while we can," he warned.

General Townshend said Kemal had outlined his terms to him and that he had forwarded them to Lloyd George.

General Townshend was in command of the British Mesopotamian army which, during the world war was taken and he was held prisoner by the Turks, and was held for the remainder of the war, being sent out by them to negotiate with the British.

"My God, what madness to threaten the Near East situation as they are doing," said General Townshend. "We have no business in Constantinople, and the sooner we get out of there the better."

"If something is not done soon, we are threatened with a holy war. The entire Moslem world would rise against us and menace the existence of the British Empire."

"Mustapha Kemal can take Constantinople. If he does, I would not be surprised to see the Bolsheviks march to Constantinople to help the Turks. Then we would have another holy war."

"The Kemalists have a large, well disciplined army. I would rather not say how many."

"We can have peace with the Turks. I talked to Kemal, and he outlined the conditions. I forwarded the memorandum to Lloyd George. The Turks want independence of territories where the Turkish population predominates, and will guarantee freedom of the Dardanelles."

"We had better settle while we can. I know what is in the minds of the Turks, and I warn of the consequences. A holy war would set the whole east aflame, from Turkey to India, and remember Russia. Did I not see the Soviet officers at Angora aiding the Kemalists? That is worth reflection."

Excoriates British Government

General Townshend in another statement said he feared the time for calling a general allied, Turkish and Greek conference had passed.

"The Greeks are now out of Smyrna, and it seems to me that the Greeks and Turks should settle the war themselves," he said.

General Townshend expressed confidence Kemal would accept the presence of a British, French and Italian and Turkish garrison in Constantinople under a neutral commander, Danish for instance, and grant the allies guarantees with regard to the straits.

He excoriated the British government for not comprehending the fact that the whole world of Islam, stretching from Morocco to China and from Turkistan to Congo, would join the uprising.

Allied occupation of Constantinople was a very grave blunder, he declared, as it let up Turkish nationalists who immediately rose up, and also let up India and Egypt.

Uprising of Moslems

Constantinople, Sept. 16.—Uprising of Moslem with an attack by Turkish nationalist forces of Kemal is understood to have been decided upon by leaders of the Mohammedans.

Allied officials are making preparations to suppress such an attack.

Massacre of Christians in Constantinople probably would follow if the European troops were overpowered. Mustapha Kemal cavalry has been reported only a few miles from the city, evidently reconnoitering. The main Kemal army has extended its right wing to a point 55 miles southeast of the city.

An unconfirmed report is that 25 transports carrying British troops are en route here.

Straits to be Kept Open

London, Sept. 16.—Great Britain has determined that the straits of the Dardanelles which extend from western Europe to India must be kept open at any cost.

Defying the threats of a holy war, England today called on the dominions of the British Empire and the Balkans to stand together to defend the Dardanelles and Constantinople against Mustapha Kemal, and the menace of the Moslem dominion of southeastern Europe.

This momentous issue, which was made public in an authoritative statement today, brought home to London today the intense gravity of the situation in the Near East, where the Turks, having captured Smyrna, now a city of fire and death, are turning toward Constantinople as the next step in their recapture of the domain taken from them by the treaty.

As Great Britain's call, sent out to her dominions and to Greece, Roumania and Serbia, all of whom are invited to participate in fighting the Turkish army from the dead line around Constantinople to the Dardanelles and Bosphorus straits in a holy war.

Members of the cabinet met today and outlined a proposed line of action which will result in Mustapha Kemal being confronted with the entire resources of the empire in addition to the strength of the Balkan states. There was no formal session of the cabinet, the premier meeting with the members individually.

Kemal Planning Another Great War

London, Sept. 16.—With the allies standing firmly together in opposition to taking Constantinople, the Turkish nationalist leader Mustapha Kemal is reported endeavoring to line up allies today, and possibly perpetrate another great war.

The Bulgarian foreign minister, Das Colloss, stated according to a Soviet dispatch, that Bulgaria would remain absolutely neutral in the Turkish-Greece fight.

U. S. Offer to Save Non-Combatants

Washington, Sept. 16.—The United States government stood ready to offer cooperation in saving the lives of hundreds of thousands of non-combatants in the Smyrna war zone.

This was the extent of official interest of this government in the Near East situation.

Whatever relief plan, Rear Admiral Bristol, American commander at Constantinople, worked out in conjunction with the allies, will receive the support of this government, it was stated.

As far as the state department knew early today, 14 missing Americans who were at the city of Smyrna, destroyed by fire, have not been accounted for.

HOOVER SEES QUICK STRIKE RECOVERY

LOSSES TO COUNTRY AS RESULT OF RAIL AND COAL STRIKES EASILY OVERESTIMATED

Washington, Sept. 16.—The country will quickly recover from its economic wounds received as a result of the railroad and coal strikes, according to the view of Secretary Herbert Hoover, expressed today in a discussion of the general situation.

"While the losses to the country due to the two great strikes are considerable, they are easily overestimated," Mr. Hoover said. "The estimate of current coal miners' wages lost in the five months is not a correct basis for estimation of the loss, because over a period of 18 months we probably will consume approximately the same amount of coal. In other words, the miners will work more days in the week and produce more coal in the next six or eight months than they would have produced if there had been no strike, and thus the wage roll of the next six or eight months will be larger and will, in a considerable degree, compensate the loss in this suspension."

"The real loss would be more in the loss of productivity in industries that have or might have to close down as a result of the coal strike. If all of our industries can be kept in motion, the loss would be much less from the coal strike than is currently estimated."

"The greatest loss today is the one being met by the farmer as a result of the railroad strike. The export of farm products has been seriously interfered with by the inability of the railways to transport produce. Prices are therefore unduly depressed in the agricultural regions and the farmer is suffering grievously."

"The inability to transport manufactured products will create some degree of loss, but not so serious as that to agriculture."

Measures for preventing high coal prices and obtaining a more equitable distribution of fuel supplies are to be discussed today at a conference of representatives of business, industry, railways and public utilities called jointly by the United States Chamber of Commerce and the president's fuel committee, of which Mr. Hoover is chairman.

O'CONNOR LAUNCHES CAMPAIGN FOR SENATE

Hankinson, N. D., Sept. 16.—"This is not a contest between the republican and democratic parties," said J. F. T. O'Connor, independent candidate for United States senator, in opening his campaign here last night. "It is a contest to determine the strength of radicalism in North Dakota."

Mr. O'Connor, who legally is the democratic nominee, has been endorsed by the independent republicans and he and his democratic friends are supporting Governor R. A. Nestos and the other independent republican candidates for state office.

In his address he promised to carry the same spirit of independence into the senate, if elected, that he showed in the legislature. He will work with the farm bloc, and will not be bound by party considerations.

Note—Mr. O'Connor has often been in Brainerd and is known to many of its citizens.

TANGLE IN FEATHERWEIGHT TITLE

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Sept. 16.—In the middle over the featherweight situation, it seems that the New York boxing commission is the undisputed champion.

The commission tied the can to Johnny Kilbane because he would not accept the challenge of Johnny Dundee.

Dundee fought and beat Danny Frush for the commission's title after the solons had announced that Kilbane would be reinstated if he agreed to fight the winner.

Kilbane then signed an agreement to fight Dundee for the championship in New Jersey and the commission then stepped on the bout by telling Dundee he would lose his license if he fought Kilbane.

Try and figure it out!

While the commission undoubtedly was inspired by the loftiest motives, its attitude on the Johnny Wilson case does not seem to be fair.

Wilson is barred from working in New York because he would not accept the challenge of Harry Greb.

Greb wanted the middleweight championship before he won the American light-heavyweight crown and when Wilson was deposed, Greb was ordered to fight Dave Rosenberg for the title. Greb then turned it down.

If the commission does persist in its refusal to recognize Wilson as the middleweight champion, it at least should not deprive him of the opportunity to fight as the ex-champion.

While the boxing bosses might be a little more consistent in their stand against Kilbane, they did a good thing in stopping the Kilbane-Dundee fight. It was to have been twelve rounds in New Jersey, and they don't permit decisions there.

To amount to anything there would have to be a knockout. Dundee was knocked out once by a sheer accident and he hasn't the kick of a rheumatic mule.

It would have been just one of two things.

Dundee is one of the greatest marvels of the ring and he would be a worthy champion if he could get a recognized claim on the title. Only one person stands in his way—Johnny Kilbane. Old as he is, that Kilbane is still able to take care of himself.

Ted Kid Lewis isn't going so good since he got rid of all that ambition to become the heavyweight champion of Europe.

When Carpentier stopped him with a couple of punches, he went back to his own class and he's doing none too well there. In a recent bout with Marcel Thomas, a third rate French welterweight, he just escaped with a slight decision.

Bob Marlin is another one who has faded out of the picture. Several years ago many smart boxing men thought that the A. E. F. and Allied Army champion would work himself to be a challenger for the big title, but he lacked something.

AMUSEMENTS

"A Stage Romance" in Final Day Here

The latest of William Farnum's photoplay successes, "A Stage Romance," produced by William Fox, will end its run here with tonight's showing at the Lyceum theatre. Lovers of the drama and dyed-in-the-wool "movie fans" have enjoyed equally this splendid picture.

At the Lyceum Sunday
Owen Moore is to appear at the Lyceum Sunday matinee and night in the well known stage comedy drama entitled "Mr. Barnes of N. Y."

"The Right to Love"

Some thrilling adventures not in the scenario were encountered by Mae Murray, David Powell, and the other players who are appearing in "The Right to Love" the Paramount picture at the Lyceum theatre showing Monday and Tuesday.

The film has a Turkish setting and to secure just the right atmosphere George Fitzmaurice, the producer, took the whole company to Florida. He secured permission to make scenes in a large house of Moorish design, located on one of the Florida keys and one of the show pieces of that region.

A six-mile boat ride was taken every day by the players from St.

and all around are floating bodies of the dead.

One hundred thousand more are massed on the water front, many kneeling and praying for divine aid. American steamers are removing the victims as rapidly as possible. Every boat load of victims brings additional details of the horrors perpetrated at Smyrna. One report was that the patriarch of the Greek church was hacked to pieces and his remains thrown into the street. Six thousand Greeks surrounded in an enclosure in the residence district were said to have been burned alive.

Americans Destitute in Athens

Washington, Sept. 16.—Nearly 250 Americans are destitute in Athens following their flight from Smyrna, the state department declared today in an official communication to the American Red Cross. A constant stream of American refugees still is pouring into Greece, and are without resources to sustain themselves, it was said. They abandoned all their property in the city in the hasty flight from the fire. The government has no funds for relief and the notification was in the nature of an appeal to the Red Cross to learn what steps that organization can take.

American Consul Morris advised the state department that the United States destroyer "Edsall" had arrived at Saloniki with 600 refugees from Smyrna. Local authorities at Saloniki have food for 8,000 refugees, the consul reported, but clothing, blankets and milk are lacking.

Three Allies Make Statement

London, Sept. 16.—France, Great Britain and Italy informed Mustapha Kemal that the allied armies would oppose any attempt by the Turks to invade the neutral zone around Constantinople and the Dardanelles.

A note signed jointly by these three powers was dispatched to the Turkish nationalist commander.

He also was warned to make no statement he would cross the Bosphorus and the Dardanelles.

Britain Seeks Defense of Neutral Zone

London, Sept. 16.—Great Britain has invited Greece, Roumania, Serbia and the British dominions to participate in defense of the neutral zone around Constantinople and the Dardanelles menaced by the Turks, it was learned authoritatively today.

The troops of the United Kingdom already guarding Constantinople will be reinforced immediately. This followed the dispatch of a joint note by Britain, France and Italy warning Mustapha Kemal not to attempt invasion of the neutral zone.

Britain, it was authoritatively stated, will exert efforts to insure permanent freedom of the Dardanelles and Bosphorus.

Declare 120,000 Greeks Massacred

Athens, Sept. 16.—Unconfirmed estimates from Armenian forces today were that a minimum of 70,000 Greeks were massacred in Smyrna and 50,000 elsewhere, in the path of the Turkish armies.

Bulgaria Sides With Moslems

Paris, Sept. 16.—Russia and Bulgaria were reported being lined up to aid the Turks in event of war with the allies.

Leo Kamenoff, commander in chief of the Russian army is hastening to Batum in Transcaucasia where the two Bolshevik divisions are being concentrated to assist the Turks if Constantinople is attacked, according to an agency radio dispatch from Moscow, via Riga, today.

The same agency reported that Hamed Riza Bey, former president of the Turkish chamber, has arrived at Sofia to negotiate for the Bulgarian army which would bring Bulgaria in the war on the side of the Moslems.

He conferred with members of the Bulgarian cabinet today.

Townshend Urges Peace Be Made

(Copyright 1922 by United Press.)
Paris, Sept. 16.—The allies must surrender Constantinople or participate in a holy war, which will menace the entire British Empire, General Sir Charles Townshend, hero of Kut El Amara, today declared to the United Press.

"We had better make peace with Mustapha Kemal while we can," he warned.

General Townshend said Kemal had outlined his terms to him and that he had forwarded them to Lloyd George.

General Townshend was in command of the British Mesopotamian army which, during the world war was taken and he was held prisoner by the Turks, and was held for the remainder of the war, being sent out by them to negotiate with the British.

"My God, what madness to threaten the Near East situation as they are doing," said General Townshend. "We have no business in Constantinople, and the sooner we get out of there the better."

"If something is not done soon, we are threatened with a holy war. The entire Moslem world would rise against us and menace the existence of the British Empire."

"Mustapha Kemal can take Constantinople. If he does, I would not be surprised to see the Bolsheviks march to Constantinople to help the Turks. Then we would have another holy war."

"The Kemalists have a large, well disciplined army. I would rather not say how many."

"We can have peace with the Turks. I talked to Kemal, and he outlined the conditions. I forwarded the memorandum to Lloyd George. The Turks want independence of territories where the Turkish population predominates, and will guarantee freedom of the Dardanelles."

"We had better settle while we can. I know what is in the minds of the Turks, and I warn of the consequences. A holy war would set the whole east aflame, from Turkey to India, and remember Russia. Did I not see the Soviet officers at Angora aiding the Kemalists? That is worth reflection."

Excoriates British Government
General Townshend in another statement said he feared the time for calling a general allied, Turkish and Greek conference had passed.

"The Greeks are now out of Smyrna, and it seems to me that the Greeks and Turks should settle the war themselves," he said.

General Townshend expressed confidence Kemal would accept the presence of a British, French and Italian and Turkish garrison in Constantinople under a neutral commander, Danish for instance, and grant the allies guarantees with regard to the straits.

He excoriated the British government for not comprehending the fact that the whole world of Islam, stretching from Morocco to China and from Turkestan to Congo, would join the uprising.

Allied occupation of Constantinople was a very grave blunder, he declared, as it let up Turkish nationalists who immediately rose up, and also let up India and Egypt.

Uprising of Moslems
Constantinople, Sept. 16.—Uprising of Moslem with an attack by Turkish nationalist forces of Kemal is understood to have been decided upon by leaders of the Mohammedans.

Allied officials are making preparations to suppress such an attack. Massacre of Christians in Constantinople probably would follow if the European troops were overpowered. Mustapha Kemal cavalry has been reported only a few miles from the city, evidently reconnoitering. The main Kemal army has extended its right wing to a point 55 miles southeast of the city.

An unconfirmed report is that 25 transports carrying British troops are en route here.

Straits to Be Kept Open

London, Sept. 16.—Great Britain has determined that the straits of the Dardanelles which extend from western Europe to India must be kept open at any cost.

Defying the threats of a holy war, England today called on the domains of the British Empire and the Balkans to stand together to defend the Dardanelles and Constantinople against Mustapha Kemal, and the menace of the Moslem dominion of southeastern Europe.

This momentous issue, which was made public in an authoritative statement today, brought home to London today the intense gravity of the situation in the Near East, where the Turks, having captured Smyrna, now a city of fire and death, are turning toward Constantinople as the next step in their recapture of the domain taken from them by the treaty.

As Great Britain's call, sent out to her domains and to Greece, Roumania and Serbia, all of whom are invited to participate in fighting the Turkish army from the dead line around Constantinople to the Dardanelles and Bosphorus straits in a holy war.

Members of the cabinet met today and outlined a proposed line of action which will result in Mustapha Kemal being confronted with the entire resources of the empire in addition to the strength of the Balkan states. There was no formal session of the cabinet, the premier meeting with the members individually.

Kemal Planning Another Great War

London, Sept. 16.—With the allies standing firmly together in opposition to taking Constantinople, the Turkish nationalist leader Mustapha Kemal is reported endeavoring to line up allies today, and possibly perpetrate another great war.

The Bulgarian foreign minister, Das Coloss, stated according to a Soviet dispatch, that Bulgaria would remain absolutely neutral in the Turkish-Greece fight.

U. S. Offer to Save Non-Combatants

Washington, Sept. 16.—The United States government stood ready to offer cooperation in saving the lives of hundreds of thousands of non-combatants in the Smyrna war zone.

This was the extent of official interest of this government in the Near East situation.

Whatever relief plan, Rear Admiral Bristol, American commander at Constantinople, worked out in conjunction with the allies, will receive the support of this government, it was stated.

As far as the state department knew early today, 14 missing Americans who were at the city of Smyrna, destroyed by fire, have not been accounted for.

HOOVER SEES QUICK STRIKE RECOVERY

LOSSES TO COUNTRY AS RESULT OF RAIL AND COAL STRIKES EASILY OVERESTIMATED

Washington, Sept. 16.—The country will quickly recover from its economic wounds received as a result of the railroad and coal strikes, according to the view of Secretary Herbert Hoover, expressed today in a discussion of the general situation.

"While the losses to the country due to the two great strikes are considerable, they are easily overestimated," Mr. Hoover said. "The estimate of current coal miners' wages lost in the five months is not a correct basis for estimation of the loss, because over a period of 18 months we probably will consume approximately the same amount of coal. In other words, the miners will work more days in the week and produce more coal in the next six or eight months than they would have produced if there had been no strike, and thus the wage roll of the next six or eight months will be larger and will, in a considerable degree, compensate the loss in this suspension."

"The real loss would lie more in the loss of productivity in industries that have or might have to close down as a result of the coal strike. If all of our industries can be kept in motion, the loss would be much less from the coal strike than is currently estimated."

"The greatest loss today is the one being met by the farmer as a result of the railroad strike. The export of farm products has been seriously interfered with by the inability of the railways to transport produce. Prices are therefore unduly depressed in the agricultural regions and the farmer is suffering grievously."

"The inability to transport manufactured products will create some degree of loss, but not so serious as that to agriculture."

Measures for preventing high coal prices and obtaining a more equitable distribution of fuel supplies are to be discussed today at a conference of representatives of business, industry, railways and public utilities called jointly by the United States Chamber of Commerce and the president's fuel committee, of which Mr. Hoover is chairman.

O'CONNOR LAUNCHES CAMPAIGN FOR SENATE

Hankinson, N. D., Sept. 16.—"This is not a contest between the republican and democratic parties," said J. F. T. O'Connor, independent candidate for United States senator, in opening his campaign here last night. "It is a contest to determine the strength of radicalism in North Dakota."

Mr. O'Connor, who legally is the democratic nominee, has been endorsed by the independent republicans and he and his democratic friends are supporting Governor R. A. Nestos and the other independent republican candidates for state office.

In his address he promised to carry the same spirit of independence into the senate, if elected, that he showed in the legislature. He will work with the farm bloc, and will not be bound by party considerations.

Note—Mr. O'Connor has often been in Brainerd and is known to many of its citizens.
